

IDEA User Award of Excellence given to
Kenneth B. Shilson,
CPA

Press Release

CaseWare IDEA Inc. is pleased to announce this year's winner of the IDEA User Award of Excellence is Ken Shilson, Managing Partner of Shilson, Goldberg, & Associates.

The "IDEA User Award of Excellence" was designed to recognize IDEA users for creativity when using IDEA and to show other users where and how IDEA has been successfully implemented.

The Information Systems Audit and Control Association (ISACA) is pleased to sponsor this award. Mr. Shilson will receive free attendance at an ISACA conference from ISACA and airfare and accommodations from CaseWare IDEA Inc.

Audimation Services, Inc. a CaseWare IDEA Business Partner, based in Houston, Texas, nominated Mr. Shilson. The award recognizes how Mr. Shilson uses the power of IDEA and its Scripting capability to create applications for audit and consulting engagements that improve efficiency and coverage; identify internal control weaknesses; and identify opportunities for profit and cash flow enhancement.

Ken described his experience: "Our firm initially purchased IDEA software four years ago for use in providing audit and review services. Our specialization in the Used Automobile Industry plus the flexibility and power of IDEA Data Analysis software has enabled us to create applications that analyze used automobile notes receivable, payables, inventory, and general ledger data. Our newest application called "Subprime Analytics" performs comprehensive credit loss analysis of a dealer's receivable portfolio and predicts future losses."

"Mr. Shilson's leadership and creativity in using IDEA is remarkable," says Bob Cuthbertson, Chief Operating Officer of CaseWare IDEA Inc. "We are pleased to see that the integration of IDEA and IDEAScripting applications has added new effectiveness into the Used Automobile Industry."
